Leduc County to administer Thorsby Fire District

Leduc County, Alberta – Effective immediately, Leduc County will assume responsibility for administering fire services within the Thorsby Fire District.

The decision came on March 11 after consultation between the County and Village. Leduc County council unanimously agreed to develop a new partnership with Thorsby. Effective immediately, the County will manage and administer fire services for the Thorsby Fire District, which includes the Village of Thorsby and surrounding rural area. Thorsby council supported this decision and unanimously agreed to have Leduc County assume day-to-day operations and management responsibilities of fire services for their community.

The two municipal administrations will develop a new draft fire services agreement for both councils to review.
